firemen confined the fiames to the first floor, and what damage resulted was caused principally by the streams of water which were poured into the building by the firemen.

The fire started from some unknown cause and reached some cottonseed oil, which at once flared up. The flame and smoke poured up an elevator-shaft and alarmed fifteen workmen who were on the top floor. They ran downstairs, cailing to their comrades on the way, and in a few minutes the building was vacant, and three fire engines were on their way to the building in response to a first alarm. Battalion Chief Giequel, who arrived with the first engines, ordered three more alarms to be sounded. They brought nearly twenty engine companies and the fireboats Zophar Mills and New-Yorker, and the flames were quickly drowned out. Chief Bonner afterward estimated the damage at $10.00.

age at $10.000.

The former warehouse on this site was totally destroyed by fire on Good Friday, 1888, and the occasion is memorable in the Fire Department. After that the present building, constructed in its place, was made as nearly fireproof as can be built.

SIMON STERNE GAINS HIS POINT.

THE OFFICERS OF THE METROPOLITAN TELE-PHONE COMPANY MUST APPEAR FOR EXAMINATION.

Simon Sterne won a preliminary victory yesterday in the fight which he is making against the Metropolitan Telephone and Telegraph Company. More than two years ago, when the company raised its prices, Mr. Sterne brought suit to enjoin A from removing his phone and to compel it to centinue its regular service at $150 a year. He obtained a temporary injunction, and also an order for the examination of the president, the secretary and the treasurer of the company before the trial. This order was afterward vacated, and Mr. Sterne eppealed to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court. This tribunal yesterday reversed the last order, thus leaving the order for the examination of the officers in effect.

Mr. Sterne maintains that the company is a common carrier of oral and written messages, that it uses the public highways, and that it is in essence a monopoly. He also says that under the law re-lating to common carriers it is not entitled to make all it conservably could, but only to exact 'reason-all it conservably could, but only to exact reasonable" charges.

The Court holds that it is essential to the determination of what reasonable charges are to understand the business of the company. Justice Parker, who writes the opinion of the Court also remarks that it is not clear that these officers could be made to appear at the trial. The president Charles F. Cutler, lives in Morristown, N. J., and the treasurer, William R. Driver, lives in Boston.

In view of these facts the Court decides that it would be quite proper for an order to issue requiring the officers to appear before a referee with the books of the company and testify regarding the profits of the business.

MORRISANIA'S MADMAN DISARMED.

POLICIMEN PERSUADE HIM TO OPEN HIS DOOR AND SEIZE HIS REVOLVER BEFORE HE CAN SHOOT.

What a show of force failed to effect with Francis Wild, the mad Morrisania grocer, who all day and night on Thursday kept a squad of police at bay in his store at No. 1,648 Stebbins-ave., strategy accomplished at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, and Wild was taken prisoner. The police guard over Wild's store on Thursday night was relieved at midnight by Policemen Leahy and Wrede, of the Morrisania station. They tired of their tedious vigil about 4 a. m., and made a plan to capture Wild without being shot. Wrede, who talks German, called the madman to the barri-caded door, and in gentle tones told him that Mrs. Wild wanted to speak to him. Wild finally gave way to Wrede's persuasions and consented to see way to Wrede's persuasions and consented to see his wife. Mrs. Wild was sent for and placed be-fore the door, where she could be seen; the police-men were on each side of her. They heard the harrels and boxes being dragged away, and then the bolt was slipped and the door partly opened. A citizen assistant threw his weight against the door, forcing it wide open, and the policemen rushed in, throwing themselves on Wild and clutch-ing tight the wrist of the right hand, in which he held his revolver. Before the lunatic knew what had happened he was disarmed and the policemen were sitting on him.

The referee reports that the residuary estate, in the hands of T. G. Ruch, Justus L. Bukkey and Henry B. Vaughan, amounts to $2.08,157 M. He recommends that the residuary estate be distributed among the twenty colleges decided upon by the Court of Appeals, after investing the sum of $125,000 in such a manner as will provide an annuity of $4.000 for Mrs. Reynolds.

Justice Pryor announced that he would adjourn the case until Thursday next, when he will hear the arguments of all parties interested.

PROPOSAL TO WIDEN ANN-ST. LAID OVER. The proposition to widen Ann-st, came before the Board of Street Openings again yesterday in the Mayor's office. Lawyers and real-estate men representing the various property-owners were heard on both sides of the question. At the close of the hearing it was decided to lay the whole proposition over until next year. Mayor Strong said that the charter of the Greater New-York had devised a charter of the Greater New-York had devised a much more perfect plan for opening and widening streets than now existed. Under the charter it would have to be pased upon by the Board of Public Improvement and other boards, so that aimost one hundred persons would have a say in it. In the present Board of Street Openings there are only six members, and he did not think they are as well qualified as one hundred would be. "This street has been as it is for a long time," he added, "and it can remain in that way for another year. We are called upon to assess somebody in 12,000,000 or $3,000,000, and I think we had better leave it to the larger body."

After Controller Fitch had agreed with the Mayor the other members of the Board acquiesced.

TO PUSH THE RAPID-TRANSIT SCHEME.

An application was made yesterday afternoon to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court for the appointment of three Commissioners to de-termine whether or not a rapid-transit road, as approved by the Board on January 14 last, ought to be constructed and operated. It is expected that the Commissioners, if appointed, will held public hearings, and, if they report in favor of the project, then the Board will ask the Court to confirm the report, which would make the consent of property-owners along the route unnecess

There was unusual excitement on the steamboat this city yesterday morning, and the passenger list was increased by one by the time the steamer list was increased by one by the time the steamer reached her pier, at Murray-st, and the Hudson River. morning till night. Other visitors came in fashlonable carriages, and before time for afternoon guard mount a gay throng filled the streets. Dress parade was a triumph. The soldiers did their best and were rewarded with the appiaces of iong lines of spectators that extended many deep along three sides of the parade ground.

Signal stations were established on the hills that surround the camp, and messages have been sent between them and the home station on the parade ground by means of the heliograph.

The weather has been excellent, and this season's tour of duty will be remembered as one of the most successful ever made by the 7th. To-night the soldiers raised high links. There was the usual illumination of the company streets, and each view with the others for the best effects.

WESTINGHOUSE ELECTRIC.

Philadelphia.-The announcement in the Westinghouse Electric Company's annual report of the large contract for generators secured by the Westinghouse company to be erected at Massera, N. Y., calls attention to a new enterprise much in character like that of the Niagara Falls Power Company, for which the Westinghouse company built the electric machines. The St. Lawrence Construction Company is taking advantage of the natural conformation of territory in the vicinity of Massena to create a water-YONKERS.

The graduating exercises of the Yonkers High power, The St. Lawrence River at that point is about School, of which Dr. Thomas O. Baker is principal, lifty feet higher than a small stream about three miles distant. The intervening ground is sandy hall of the Rudolf Elekemeyer School, in Waverly- and loose. Through this soil the company is digging a canal to connect the two streams. The smaller stream empties into the St. Lawrence River a few miles further down and furnishes a natural outlet for the water of the canal.

The company proposes to generate power at sufficiently low cost to induce manufacturers to establish plants in that vicinity. The company is strongly backed by New-York and foreign capitalists.

It is said that this contract for electrical apparatus will amount to $1.00.000, and the surprise in New-York is that this contract and the Niagara Falis power contract for large electric generating machines go to the Westinghouse Electric Company at Pittsburg, although the owners in these power enterprises are largely interested in other electric companies.
